For all we have and are,
For all our children's fate;
Stand up and take the war.
The fun is at the gate!
Our world has passed away
In wondrous o'erthrow.
There is nothing left today.
But steel and fire and stone!
Through all we knew depart,
The old Commandments stand—
To meet and break and beat
In strength lift up your hand.

Once more we hear the word
That sickened earth of old:
"No law except the Sword Unheated and uncontrolled."
Once more it knits mankind,
Once more the nations go
To meet and break and beat
A crazed and driven foe.

Comfort, content, delight,
The acre's best bought gain
They shrivelled in a night.
Only yourselves remain
To face the naked days
In silent forlorn
Through perils and dismay
Renewed and renewed.

Though all we make depart
Stand up and take the war.
"In patience keep your heart,
In strength lift up your hand."

No easy hope or lies
Shall bring us to our goal,
But from sacrifice
Of body, will, and soul.
There but one task for all—
"No life for each to give,
What stands if Freedom fail?
Who dies if England live?"
"For All We Have And Are"—
Roydard Kipling (1940).

Graduation and Wedding of Mr. and Mrs. MacLeod's Nephew

Inspector and Mrs Munroe MacLeod attended the Convocation ceremonies at the University in Edmonton May 10th, to be present at the graduation of their nephew, MacLeod Ricardus Kelson, of Ponoka, who graduated with first class honours in Chemistry, winning his B. Sc. in Arts.

Mr Kelson was first in the list of 346 graduates. He was awarded the Governor-General's Gold Medal for his scholarly attainments. He was also awarded scholarships of approximately $1,000 per year for four years at the University of Wisconsin.

This is a wonderful record. At 6 o'clock in the evening of graduation day Mr Kelson's marriage to Miss Olive Ghent also of Ponoka, took place at the Chapel of St. Stephen's College, which was an event of much interest to the student body and many friends. Rev. Ramsey officiating.

About 40 guests were present at the wedding. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Lower level where felicitations were extended the happy young couple and a choice turkey dinner served.

Mr and Mrs Kelson left on the night train for Nobelet, Ontario where the groom will be employed in a munition factory during the summer months.

STANDARD

On Saturday, May 10th, the Standard branch of the A. W. I. G. C. held a Mother's Day celebration in the Club room of the Knights of Pythias. The guests were welcomed by the members of the club and their supervisor, Mrs Lee. The following programme arranged entirely by the girls followed: The singing of O Canada. Club Song—W. I. G. C. Members. Flag Salute—

"In purity, fidelity, truth, We pledge allegiance to our King, Our Country and our Flag."

Address of welcome, Dorothy Post. Poem, Maurine Story. Song "Mother" B. Dahl, & Chorus. Reading, Dorothy Nelson. Address, Mrs G. Thurston. Play, Glad Members.

Address, Mrs E. J. Bell. Toast to the Mothers, Doris Fletcher. Reply, Mrs G. Pederson.

The Club song was written and composed by one of the girls. At the conclusion of the program a delicious lunch was served. The colour scheme was green and white and the daintiness of the tables was enhanced by bunches of gladioli and apple blossoms. An interesting contest, having reference to the well-groomed girl, was won by Mrs Dahl. This girl's club is the only one of its kind in the Glen Eden Constituency and speaks well for the devotion and energy of Mrs L. M. Lee, who is a valued member of the W. I. and also for the interest and enthusiasm of the girls themselves. It is significant that its membership is steadily increasing.

THE EIGHTH DECENNIAL

Census of Canada

June 2, 1941

THE Census is the stock-taking of the nation — of its men, women, and children; its agriculture, trade, and industry; its housing, and general social condition. By it, all Governments, — Dominion, Provincial and Municipal — are enabled to work more effectively and economically in the interest of every resident of the Dominion.

IN these days of increasing Government responsibilities, no Government can give the best service unless it has detailed and accurate knowledge of the people and their varying circumstances. That is why we request the co-operation of all Canadian citizens in the taking of the Census. When the Government's Enumerator calls at your door, receive him courteously and give him all the information for which he asks. Remember that he is in your service. Accuracy and despatch in your replies will promote good administration in your country, now under stress of war and facing crucial post-war reconstruction.

ALL INFORMATION SUPPLIED HELD STRICTLY CONFIDENTIAL

You can place absolute trust in the official Enumerator, who is sworn to secrecy. All the information which you provide will be held in strictest confidence both by him and the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, and can never be used against you by any tax-collecting, military, or other agency, or in any court of law.

It is compulsory by law to answer the questions, but you will be assisting your Government in these difficult times by giving the information readily and accurately in the spirit of good citizenship.

Issued by authority of The Honourable JAMES A. MacKINNON, M.P., Minister.

HE STILL DOES

(Manchester Guardian)

The other day I was reading the first book that the Prime Minister ever published. "The Story of the Malakand Field Force," the account of an Indian frontier war in which, as was his adventurous custom, he involved himself as the correspondent of the "Pioneer" newspaper at the age of 22.

Even then his gift of phrase showed itself, brilliant but at that time undisciplined, in his description of the Himalayas as "the tumult of ground." But what particularly interested me was a despatch from the commander of the force, Major General Sir Bindon Blood, in which he commended the "courage and resolution"

WINSTON'S WIFE LIKES ACTIVITY

GLAD TO BE ALIVE AT THIS MOMENT OF OUR HISTORY

LONDON—The war has brought Clementine Churchill, a first-rate platform speaker, out of her retirement. The tall, curly-headed wife of Britain's wartime prime minister, has made two recent broadcasts appealing to the women of India and England to donate woolens for civil defence workers.

Daughter of the late Col. Sir H. M. Hoiter and Lady Blanche Ogilvy, daughter of the 7th Earl of Airlie, Mrs Churchill stamped a great deal for her husband in his early political career, but stopped in 1922 and did no more public speaking until 12 years later when she helped their son Randolph in a Commons campaign.

War-time activities of the Prime Minister's wife have included the opening of Birmingham's war loan week and a recreation club for New Zealand troops in London, and visits to bombed areas.

Outlook On Life—Mrs Churchill finds life in England today "thrilling" and says she is "glad to be alive at this moment of our history." But she hastens to add that "I do not mean for a moment that life is in the least enjoyable. We are quite literally living under the shadow of death."

The Prime Minister's wife is a handsome, graceful, grey-eyed woman, who looks so young that she has been taken for the 46-year-old Prime Minister's second wife. She's fond of British tweeds and wears them with British nonchalance.

These days she lives in the country away from the tch tch of bombs, but comes to London every few days for a brief "look in" at the war.

When the Prime Minister makes a big speech in Commons she takes a seat in the gallery where Churchill glances upward as he warms into his oratorical pace, can catch the approving gesture of her uplifted hand.

DEEP-SEA DIVER

I drop through spaces coolly green Below the earth's tumultuous scene— Down where silver fish are playing And Maure anemones are swaying With eyes darting to the light I sense no width, no depth, no height On fronded seaweeds, idly swinging, Pale shrimps, like shreds of mist, are clinging A pearty jelly-fish throbs by With fringes delicate as dew Down distance luminously blue No sound of man, no creature's cry A magic world I call my own: A world where I may walk alone As buoyantly, with measured pace, My armored steps the sea-floor trace Its loveliness imparts to me Possession's warming ecstasy! AID TO BRITAIN IS ROOSEVELT GOAL

RIGHT TIME AWAITED TO ANNOUNCE PLAN TO PUBLIC

Washington.—Sources intimately close to the White House disclosed that President Roosevelt has reached a definite decision as to the next step which the United States must take in the war.

This decision, it is stated authoritatively, rests upon the unyielding intention to make sure that the means of defense are delivered to the British Isles.

It also rests on a broad military strategy which has been worked out by the highest American and British defense authorities and which, the President is confident, will result in a Nazi defeat.

But unexpectedly, this decision will not be announced in Mr. Roosevelt's much anticipated Wednesday night address scheduled to be delivered before the Ambassadors and Ministers of all the Western Hemisphere Nations.

Waiting Strategic Moment—Whatever official explanation seems most appropriate to offer, the controlling circumstance is that the President is not yet persuaded that the occasion and the timing are right for a significant and decisive pronouncement of policy.

Such a pronouncement will be forthcoming and it is now expected that it will not be deferred more than two weeks. Mr. Roosevelt is determined that he will not be pressed into premature commitment, although the pressing has been almost exclusively by his closest friends and Cabinet associates. There has hardly been a session of the Inner "War Cabinet" for a month that one Cabinet official or another has not urged the President to speak out.

"It is evident," says Mr. Mitchell, "that despite some discouraging reports, a lot of material, guns, airships, etc., are getting to where they will do the most good."

insistence on the delivery of planes, guns and other combat material, in the production of which our factories are now bending every effort.

"Incidentally, it indicates that the President has a very clear idea of what has to be done to compass the Hitler projected world domination."

Where National Parks Began

The National Parks of Canada which began fifty-five years ago with setting aside of an area of ten square miles around the Hot Mineral Springs at Banff, Alberta, must now be ranked among Canada's greatest tourist attractions. The province of Alberta has, therefore, the distinction of being the birthplace of Canada's National Parks. Within this province has been created five of these popular playgrounds with an area totalling more than half the combined area of the present National Parks System of Canada. These Parks have now become an asset of immeasurable value and yearly attract tens of thousands of visitors from many parts of the world.

In 1887 the Government of Canada decided to enlarge the original area reserved in the vicinity of Banff so that the public should always have access to this magnificent alpine region. The boundaries of the park were, therefore, extended to encompass an area of 260 square miles of scenery of the highest order. Today Banff National Park covers an area of 2,546 square miles. It embraces a veritable "sea of mountains," ranging after range running parallel to one another generally from southeast to northwest. Giant peaks, many of which are perpetually snow-crowned or glacier-hung, rise to a height of more than 11,000 feet above sea level, and attract some of the most noted alpinists in the world.

Completion of the already famous discover a suitable route across British North America. Dr Hector ascended the Bow River Valley in 1858 to Bow Lake and Bow Pass, and continued down the Mietzger River Valley to the North Saskatchewan River, thence up the Howse River to Glacier Lake.

Magnificent views of the Great Columbia triangle are among the highlights of this 186 mile journey between Banff and Jasper, and at one point the tongue of Athabasca Glacier stretches down within a few hundred feet of the road. In spite of the wild country through which the highway passes, it has none of the terrors sometimes associated with mountain roads. It consists mainly of long, straight stretches and easy grades. Changes in direction are accomplished by means of smooth, sweeping curves rather than sharp corners. Thus a new chapter has been written in the development of Alberta's tourist attractions.

Jasper National Park was established in 1907 and has an area of 4,200 square miles, making it by far the largest national park in Canada. Both Banff and Jasper are wild life sanctuaries as well as recreation areas, and most of the big game indigenous to the Canadian Rockies are to be found within this territory. One may hunt or molest the wild creatures in these parks, but fishing in the hundreds of lakes and streams for which the region is famous is permitted.

IN APPRECIATION

The Standard is very greatly indebted to Mr. H. J. C. Stead, Superintendent of Publicity and Information, National Parks, Ottawa, for the use of these beautiful pictures of Nature's Wonderland situated in the Canadian Rockies and Western Canada's National Parks.

People who view those majestic peaks and beautiful scenes for the first time are ecstatic in their response to the wonder of it all and to those more familiar, their appreciation of the beauty grows with each recurring visit.

Through Mr. Stead's kindness we bring to you paper glimpses of those alluring scenes.

THE ALBERTAN ENGAGES
NEW EDITOR

Mr. Edward Dix has been appointed chief editorial writer for the Albertan.

Mr. Dix has had extensive newspaper experience in both American and Canadian papers. He has served on the Montreal Herald, Toronto Globe, Saturday Night, Maclean's and Toronto Star.

We welcome him to the West.

WEDDING BELLS

A delicate Toronto society girl blushing and smiling in a filmy wedding gown, came daintily up the aisle, her gossamer veil floating like mist about her head. At the altar she stood her toe on a potted lily resting on the floor.

"That's a hell of a place for a lily," she said coyly.

tion centre and is linked with Glacier National Park to the south by the hief Mountain International Highway.

Some of the National Parks in Alberta were established as wild life sanctuaries, and still serve this primary purpose. Nemiskam National Park, reserved in 1922, covering an area of 812 square miles, encloses a herd of pronghorn antelope.

The story of the saving of the buffalo is linked with the establishment of Elk Island National Park, situated in almost the exact centre of Alberta and within an hour's drive of Edmonton.

Although Wood Buffalo Park is situated partly in the Province of Alberta and partly in Northwest Territory, in the extreme southwest corner of Alberta, around the beautiful Waterton Lakes, was created in 1909 another national park with an area of 250 square miles. Waterton Lakes National Park lies just north of the International Boundary between Canada and the United States, and adjoins Glacier National Park in Montana. Today, the Waterton-Glacier International Peace Park, as it is known, exemplifies the spirit of good neighbourliness and co-operation which has existed between Canada and the United States for over a hundred years. This region is rich in early history and stirring adventure. Along the forested slopes of the multicoloured mountains and down through its beautiful valleys have passed in turn Indians, trappers and traders in the great cavalcade of events in the days gone by. The region was once a rich hunting ground for the Indians, and great herds of buffalo roamed there. Today the buffalo has disappeared but Waterton Lakes National Park still provides sanctuary for many other big game animals, including moose, elk, mule deer, and black bear. It is also a popular vacation spot.

The average American, whose good-will and genuine friendship towards Canadians are genuine and long established, knows quite well that he is always a welcome visitor in this country, and never more so than at the present time. The value of the National Parks as a war asset is becoming realized as never before and the movement of tourists to these great vacation centres may be expected, in 1941, to exceed all former records.

ories mention must be made of this great game preserve when discussing wild life sanctuaries in Alberta, because it is the largest on the North American Continent. It is about three hundred miles north of Edmonton and contains an area of 11,200 square miles, with over three quarters of this area lying within the province of Alberta. The park was established primarily for the protection of a herd of wood bison or buffalo, but now forms a vast preserve for many other species of big game and fur-bearing animals.

The average American, whose good-will and genuine friendship towards Canadians are genuine and long established, knows quite well that he is always a welcome visitor in this country, and never more so than at the present time. The value of the National Parks as a war asset is becoming realized as never before and the movement of tourists to these great vacation centres may be expected, in 1941, to exceed all former records.

WARNING . . . AGAINST MAILING CIGARETTE-LIGHTER FLUID

The Public are advised that cigarette lighter fluid must not be sent through the mails. The danger of doing so, especially under war time conditions must be apparent, for should this substance ignite it might cause great loss to the mails or postal premises, and it is to be noted, the mail train or the ship; as well as injury to postal employees. Some weeks ago attention was directed to the fire hazard caused by matches which ignited in a parcel already directed into a mail bag at the Base Post Office.

Postal regulations prohibit the mailing of any inflammable, explosive, dangerous or destructive substance or liquid, or any matter, etc., likely to injure any letter or other insalable matter, or the person of any officer or servant of the Post Office. Public co-operation is solicited in helping the Canadian Postal Corps safeguard the mails.

FIFTY FLYING FORTRESSES ARE AMONG NEWCOMERS TO BRITAIN'S 1941 AIR FORCE

Six entirely new types of aircraft are now taking the air against the Nazis. In speed, offensive power and range they will supersede the Spitfires, Hurricanes, Wellingtons, Whitleys and others which have become famous throughout the world for their exploits over Europe.

Outstanding among the new aircraft is the Hawker "Tornado," a single seater fighter with nearly double the engine power of the Spitfire. Designed by the builders of the Hurricane, it is powered by a 2,000 h. p. Rolls Royce Vulture engine, giving a speed of about 425 m. p. h. Its armament is heavy enough to shatter enemy planes in mid-air.

Also more powerful than the famous original is the Spitfire Mark 3, already reported with new Rolls-Royce Merlin engines. The design has clipped wings, and in some cases is rearmend with shelling cannon. Another new fighter, the Westland Whirlwind, is similarly powered.

Among the bombers the most sensational arrivals are fifty Flying Fortresses, the giant Bostons from U. S. A., equipped with the famous Sperry bomb sight of unerring accuracy. All Britain's new bombers are designed to meet the current need for very long-range activity combined with greater speed. One is called the Avro Manchester, and has twin Vulture engines. Another, the Short Stirling, with four engines, is both bigger and faster than the existing Flying Fortresses. For long-range work this bomber will be even more useful than the Wellington.

It is now disclosed that the fighters now being used against night raiders over Britain include Hawker Hurricanes, Bristol Blenheim and Defiants.

"I want to grow some trees in my garden. Can you sell me a few seeds?" asked Mr. Newby.

"Certainly, madam," replied the assistant. He fetched her a packet.

"They should be, madam."

"And quite strong at the roots, I suppose?"

"Oh, yes, madam."

"Very well, I'll take a hammock at the same time."

Don't get me wrong, the new maid.

"Now," rejoined his mother, "you go in and kiss your new maid like a good boy."

Edsel Ford Inspects Canadian War Machine

Mr. E. E. EDSEL FORD, centre, inspects a Universal carrier produced in the Canadian Ford plant at Windsor, Ontario. Mr. Wallace R. Campbell, President of the Canadian company, is on the right, and Mr. George E. Dickert, Vice-President, on the left. Universal carriers are among the many different types of mechanical transport manufactured in the Windsor Ford plant.

Since the war began the company has supplied more than 75,000 vehicles for military use to the governments of Canada, the United Kingdom and other Empire countries.

THE WEEK IN EDMONTON

Alberta's most important tourist season event is scheduled for May 24 when the Jasper-Banff mountain highway will be reopened for traffic. Practically every visitor to the province wishes to travel this magnificent scenic way. The Trans-Canada highway through the Big Bend is already open, as is the Banff-Windermere-Cranbrook road.

Talks with Finance Minister Haley are still proceeding with regard to the application by the province for a bank charter. Ministers Solon E. Low and E. C. Manning, later joined by Hon. Lucien Maynard, were spokesmen for the province.

Two recent war contracts announced in Ottawa are for a water and sewage system at the Clarendon service flying school, awarded to the General Construction Co., of that point; and for concrete construction at the Pembroke school, awarded to the Pool Construction Co. Ltd., of Edmonton. The first is for $54,000, the second for $4,000.

Alberta's best paying business, compared with the first two months of 1940, was fur production. Better prices and greater marketings jumped the total value 240 per cent to $1,151,812. This led all other commercial and industrial gains in Alberta. Wheat and coarse grains continue to show decreases, but butter, cheese, cattle, hogs, sheep and lambs, fur milling, and concentrated milk all show gains. Horse sales were down 41 per cent, with $66,540 realized on 1,110 head. This was 718 fewer head sold than in the 1940 period.

In other commercial and industrial fields, gains were recorded, including packing plant sales, petroleum, coal, clay products, wholesale trade, machine sales, motor vehicle sales. A decrease of 17,076 is the number of persons receiving unemployed relief leave 18,525 present recipients, a drop of 18 per cent.

Sixty per cent of Edmonton's average families are undernourished. This is the conclusion reached by Dr. Geo. Hunter, University of Alberta Biochemistry professor, after an intensive survey of families within the $500 - $1,000 income range.

More than 2,000 persons chose Sunday last as calling day on one of Alberta's oldest residents. They were preceded earlier by several thousands who paid due homage to the venerable. The recipient was a descendant, either whole or part, that is coming to view gradually under the impact of pick and shovel in the dry Saskatchewan river bed at Edmonton.

Circulating libraries are an old story, but Edmonton is shortly to have a circulating library that does just that. It will be operated in a reconstructed building at the Denison and 10th streets, and will devote books to borrowers and picking them up on later visits. The car will park on stub lines.

THE "OTTAWA SPOTLIGHT"

(Weekly Review of National Affairs)
By M. McDUGALL

Unemployment Insurance—

The announcement that the unemployment insurance plan will come into effect in Canada on July 1st has been favorably received. During the war there will be little disemployment of insurance benefits because continued employment to men working in war industries is assured. The important thing about it, however, is that when the war is over, workers will have a nest egg of insurance which will aid them during the period of economic disruption. Approximately 2,200,000 workers will be paying weekly dues ranging from 5 to 26 cents. Employers contribute a sum equal to the total amount paid by employees, and the federal government gives an additional sum equal to one-fifth of the combined contributions of labor and employers. It also pays the cost of administering the plan. The contributions which will begin to flow into the insurance chest after July 1, will amount to more than $1,000,000 monthly. This will be invested in Dominion bonds and will therefore aid in the financing of the war.

The insurance plan applies to all workmen earning less than $1,000 annually except those engaged in agriculture, forestry, lumbering and logging, transportation by air and water, stockbreeding and private domestic service.

Large Wheat Sale and Minimum Butter Prices—

The sale of 120 million bushels of wheat to be delivered during the next twelve months to Britain means that arrangements are made for the sale of an amount equal to two thirds of the total exports of wheat during the present crop year. It would appear that Britain which in former years took about 40 per cent of its import requirements of wheat from Canada is following a policy in wartime of drawing on Canada for about 70 per cent of its import needs. Another stabilizing factor in the agricultural industry has been the setting of minimum prices for butter from May to October, the prices rising by one half cent in each successive month. The same minimum price is set for provinces which consume more butter than they produce. These provinces are British Columbia, Ontario, Quebec, and the Maritime. The Alberta and Manitoba prices are three cents higher and Saskatchewan two cents to cover cost of shipping butter from the three provinces which export butter to other parts of Canada.

Calgary Boys Broadcast From London, Eng.

Sunday evening about 9.30, Strathmore radio listeners were all alert to hear the broadcast of voices and music from London of the number, comprising the band from Calgary and district. The voice most familiar to Strathmore was Doug Hirdle's, which sounded very natural and in good spirits. Those familiar with the various instruments could detect Doug's trumpet playing in the band. Cheerio, keep your chin up, and hope to see you soon was the general keynote.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Soul and Body" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at all Christian Science Churches on Sunday. The Golden Text is 1 Thessalonians 5:23. One of the Scriptural citations is "The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup—thou maintainest my lot" (Psalm 16:5). One of the correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, is "Soul, or Spirit, is God, unchangeable and eternal; and man co-exists with and reflects God, for man is God's image" (p. 120).

THE QUEEN'S BIRTHDAY AND EMPIRE DAY

THE Twenty-fourth of May is the Queen's birthday; if you don't give us a holiday

We'll all run away." So ran the ditty during the later years of Queen Victoria's long, progressive and Empire Building reign. It was during the reign of Victoria The Good, as she came to be known throughout the Empire, that the sovereign and the people were drawn very close in a bond of love and human sympathy. Hence the people of the Empire ever, celebrated the recurring Birthdays of the beloved Queen, with a fervency of devotion, that up to this period had been unknown.

This feeling has steadily increased with each successive sovereign, reaching today a very high status between the present rulers and the people. So strong was the desire to show honor to Queen Victoria that the celebration of her birthday became as strong as a sacred rite, and folk in general, observed May 24 as a gala day, not to be offset by any minor obligation or work.

Hence the strong feeling expressed in the ditty—
"If you don't give us a holiday, We'll all run away."

After the death of Victoria The Good, the day was continued as a holiday, in tribute to her memory and in later years was known as Empire Day. As such it is celebrated throughout the far-flung realm. The intangible bond of loyal cooperation and affection, which binds the various Dominions to the Motherland and the Empire, is to other nations an enigma which they cannot understand, the while it is also cause for regret to them, for a dis-united Empire would prove easier prey for their ravages.

The foundations on which this mighty structure has been built are liberty for the rights of the individual, and freedom in speech, religion and largely government.

Today the Empire is faced with a gigantic task to preserve these conditions for the world.

That they should perish from the earth is unthinkable. With the fullest effort of the Empire and all out aid from the United States, we shall win and Empire Day will continue to be celebrated.

The task ahead is a mighty one—But British people fight hardest when the task is greatest, and with the power of the Navy, Air and Land Forces, Britain and the United States will prevail over the opposing forces of cruelty, murder and barbarism—

"God speed the Day."

CANADA'S WAR EFFORT AS A WHOLE

CANADIANS are thoroughly justified in looking Time Magazine for its belittling comments about Canada's war effort.

Here at home there has been a good deal of criticism regarding Canada's organization for war; most of it sound, constructive criticism. The Financial Post has been among the critics. It feels that we can move even farther toward the all-out war effort to which this country is committed. But between such criticism—self-criticism designed to spur us on to our most noble effort—and cheap jibes that suggest that Canada is doing very little in the war, there is a world of difference.

The other day The Financial Post received a letter from a reader contemplating a trip to the United States. She wanted to know what she could tell her American friends when they asked her what Canada was doing in the war.

There is a great deal she can tell, a story of achievement of which no citizen in Canada need be ashamed. She can tell of a country that is united in a fervent desire to throw every last ounce of national energy into the struggle.

Of a country that is taxing itself as few nations have ever before taxed themselves to insure that the resources are available to pay the bills for the not inconsiderable array of manpower, munitions, ship and other vital war equipment made available to the cause of Democracy.

She can tell of a country that is straining its financial strengths to the limit to help the United Kingdom finance her purchases on this continent.

She can tell of a country where, despite so great an effort, there is still self-criticism; still the cry to do more and do it more efficiently.

It is one thing to search for the defects in order that they may be remedied. It is another thing to say the whole war effort is trifling and shameful. The first is helpful; the second is unjust and inaccurate. —Financial Post.

MYSTERIOUS

ALMOST as mysterious as Rudolph Hess' "escape" from Germany is the relationship between the University of Alberta and Premier Aberhart.

Stories were flying around for days that the University was going to honor Premier Aberhart with an honorary LL.D. degree at Convocation. Then the University Senate met and announced there would be no honorary degrees this year.

Weeks ago it was announced that Premier Aberhart would make the Convocation address.

Wednesday it was announced that the Premier would NOT make the Convocation address.

The public would like to know what it is all about. It isn't just a question of idle curiosity, either. After all, it costs Alberta somewhere in the neighborhood of half a million dollars a year to keep the University in operation. And it costs $10,000 a year for Premier Aberhart's salary. That gives us some right to know what is going on. —Lethbridge Herald.

A TEMPEST IN A TEAPOT

PETTINESS in high places has been amply evidenced in the circles of the Senate of the University. Whatever the reason for difference in the recent motion within the Senate, the members should at least arrive at a unanimous decision before action be taken which would place in such awkward and humiliating position, both the President of the University and the Premier of the Province.

The Senate may be quite justified in declining to grant the Honorary Degree in question but this decision should have been made clear, before any publicity was given to the suggestion.

Now the action will reflect unfavorably, particularly on the Senate.

TOWN COUNCIL

There were no contentious subjects on the agenda at Council on Tuesday night, and the meeting was over in lots of time to hear tea news. It was stated that the Council would meet the radio which out of the hour had thoughtfully provided at the previous meeting.

The number from the old bleachers at the ball park has been cleared up, and so has most of the brush in the park, with a few loads remaining. These will be cleaned up "in jig time," said the public works committee. Thirty-eight dead trees around town have been replaced with live ones, as have also a few which were not dead, but merely dormant.

Councillor Spillman was elected deputy-mayor for the next three months' period.

By-law number 214 was read the third time and passed, putting all lots to be sold at the forthcoming tax sale at their assessed value. This is in line with prescribed procedure, and at their assessed value.

Permission to cut the hay on the land opposite Schulze's was granted, with a provision that the land be worked as soon as the Court of Sessions on June 3rd has been held, and draw up the estimates, and millrate for the coming season. The public works committee were instructed to see about the entrance to the hayland across from the school. Apparently, the highway operations which have been going on, have lowered the ditch on one side, so that it is impossible to get in or out.

The stores and business places of the town will be asked to co-operate with the military authorities, by closing on Thursday, May 23, from 3 to 5 p.m. while the authorities are holding a parade in town. This is in order that all the townpeople may get out to see the parade, and back it up. It was strongly recommended that some of all fire equipment, including hydrants, hose, truck, and so on. Be made of all fire equipment, including hydrants, hose, truck, and so on. Be made of all fire equipment, including hydrants, hose, truck, and so on. Be made of all fire equipment, including hydrants, hose, truck, and so on.

Arrangements to see about the gate at the far end of the ball park and also about cleaning up the brush around town were made.

Accounts amounting to $21.00 were passed.

M. D. BOW VALLEY REGULAR MEETING

At the Bow Valley meeting held Tuesday considerable routine business was transacted.

The 10 per cent discount rate remains same as last year, save that the time is extended to June 15th.

The Council drove out to see the construction work on the East Highway.

Disaffiliation was expressed with the location of the new bridge on the East Highway, and it is hoped to have this position changed before completing the road.

"BLOOD...TOIL... TEARS and SWEAT"

This is a war for existence. It is war to the death. It is a war to win or to lose.

There can be no half way—no compromise. It is a war to WIN.

Money is the fourth arm of the service.

Whatever you are called on to pay or to lend, it is little compared to the lives that our sons offer.

There have been many and heavy calls upon Canada already.

There will be more.

Let us face the truth and the truth will make us free.

It is freedom we are fighting for, British freedom, the freedom of body and spirit that makes life worth living.

If we fail, we fall.

Be prepared for sacrifice.

Great Britain has set us an example on a scale of heroic magnificence history doesn't record.

Let us FIGHT!

Canada has the resources. Let us spare nothing. When our soldiers offer their lives, let us be willing to share our livelihood.

Presently the Government of Canada will call for money.

The money is here.

We are spending billions. We are already heavily taxed. But most of these billions and those taxes are being spent in Canada. That money comes back to you. Keep it rolling. Keep putting it back into the war effort, so that it may be spent again and again and again until Right prevails and the world is free.

A. T. A. MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Bow Valley Sub-Local of the Strathmore
 A. T. A. took place in the High School on Tuesday.

The chief business arose out of the recent Sports Meet. It was finally decided that in future only schools in the Bow Valley Sub-Local would be allowed to compete in this meet. Other centres in the Wheatland Division could hold their own meets and by applying for permission to the Executive of the B. V. T. A. and P. A. could probably get permission to enter their winners in the Central Meet. This would obviate the necessity of any school having to enter in three meets.

Mr. W. I. MacKenzie gave a very thoughtful and interesting address, illustrated with lantern pictures on
 "The Evolution of the Universe".
 This was much appreciated.
 Lunch was then served.

HITLER ●●●

He is just a spoiled paper hanger.

He is so poor, and yet so bold;

But no true England will ever be told.

And Hitler will not get his love.

NOTE—This is the effort of a 14 year old boy, whose idea is better than his expression.

THE CENSUS

WHY AND HOW IT IS TAKEN

Census taking dates from the dawn of civilization. Monks numbered the children of their monasteries in the 14th Century.
 C. Statistical investigations were made in Babylonian 1000 B. C. etc.

It may not be generally known that the credit of taking the first census of modern times belongs to Canada when a systematic "census" of the Colony of New France was made in 1666.

The Census of June 22nd, 1941 is the 8th comprehensive decennial census to be taken since Confederation.

The census constitutes under the modern system something less than a great periodical stock-taking of the Canadian people and the industries, products and wealth of the country.

It is a very elaborate compilation of facts, which will require from 2 to 4 weeks to complete in normal conditions. Elaborate forms are furnished to be filled by the official appointed.

GRASS
 (The Lethbridge Herald)

Once upon a time a poet wrote of the Canadian prairie:
 "These are the gardens of the desert.
 These the unshorn fields, boundless and beautiful,
 For which the speech of England has no name." —The Prairie.

That was back in the last century
 when the Prairies were still a wild expanse of grass, and the home of millions of buffalo.

Man has changed that. The grass which it took millions of years, probably, to grow has disappeared under the plow of man. And with the change has come trouble — soil drifting, over-production of foodstuffs, loss of fertility.

It would be foolish to say that we have in 50 years worn out the top six inches of soil, that has produced more than ten millions of new wealth from the prairie provinces of Canada, but we are well along the way.

One of the veterans of western agriculture has issued a warning in this connection. Dr. W. H. McMaster, 50 years Minister of Agriculture in Saskatchewan and the Dominion, declares the time has come to start regrassing. He has farmed in Saskatchewan for more than fifty years, and has had more opportunity to observe the whole agricultural picture than most people. Recently he said:
 "Let us who are thoroughly grass conscious start a campaign on all fronts and from all angles to gradually and steadily regrass the wonderful prairie land of ours, until it is at least as a semblance of what it looked like before we den
